I recently read Lunch Money by Andrew Clements Lunch Money is about a boy who has been collecting money since he was about 5. When he was older his dad told him he should start a bank account (because he had a bunch of money in different spots in the house) so you don't lose your money, and you will get a $100 when you stay there for a year.

Lunch Money by Andrew Clements - Goodreads

This is a great book that presents rather detailed discussions of money concepts in a way that is entertaining to my fourth grade sons. Andrew Clements is an excellent author who teaches through riveting stories without ever talking down to his audience. He also avoids some of the baseline potty humor that pervades kids' lit today.
